
Board

The scientific Director coordinated the editorial board of the necklaces and the international magazine in compliance with the COPE guidelines [<http://publicationethics.org>].

The scientific director and all the members of the Board of drafting of necklaces and magazine are the main responsible for the final decision on the publication of articles that are submitted to the magazine exclusively through the institutional address secretarygeneral@fondazione-del-bianco.org.

The Director, together with the editorial board, also monitors defamation, copyright infringement and plagiarism processes, and for this finality the Director makes use of the contribution and support of external auditors and researchers of recognized academic value in order to take their own decisions, according to a double-blind peer review procedure.

All the editorial board collaborates in the evaluation and proposal of unpublished manuscripts, of acknowledged scientific content and without any distinction of race, sex, religious beliefs, sexual orientation, citizenship, ethnic origin, linguistics and Scientific-academic or political orientation of the individual authors interested in proposing their projects to be published.

All documents received in the editorial office are suitably archived and no unpublished material contained in the manuscripts submitted to the magazine or necklaces can be used by the members of the editorial board for their own research without the written consent of the author. The editorial board is obliged not to disclose any information on the texts and manuscripts received unless it is the potential auditors, editorial consultants and external members identified in concert with the director.